The solar modules are supplied to Jinko Solar through Jinko Solar Group entities. The supply chain of the Jinko Solar Group involves various components and raw materials, including polysilicon, ingots, wafers, solar cells, frames, connectors and junction boxes, etc. which ultimately results in a final product i.e. solar modules. These materials are sourced by Jinko Solar Group through suppliers and vendors mainly across China, Germany, South Korea, and United States.

Jinko Solar also sells solar modules through a network of authorized dealers and distributors. We engage these third parties on a contractual basis and these contracts are reviewed and renewed regularly.

Jinko Solar contracts third party companies which provide warehouse facilities to Jinko Solar in Melbourne, Brisbane, Adelaide and Perth.

We also have a number of direct service providers in Australia, primarily catering to ancillary business support services such as finance, logistics, customs clearance agents, legal support and office administration, etc.

Modern slavery risks, assessment and profile

We recognise that there may be potential risks of modern slavery in the solar module manufacturing industry as a result of manual labour associated with the manufacturing industry or related to raw materials and service-related suppliers.

Modern slavery risks may impact our business and we endeavour to reduce the risk that we might contribute to modern slavery through our operations and supply chains.

Modern slavery risks were assessed to be lower for our warranty and corporate services offered post sale, due to the nature of our highly-skilled workforce and governing regulations. Jinko Solar Group has strict labour compliance requirements with reference to the guidelines of the International Labour Organization.

Jinko Solar has assessed the risks of modern slavery in its supply chain as described in this section. Our risk assessment methodology considers indicators of modern slavery including sector and industry, together with the type of products and services procured. Jinko Solar deployed self-assessment questionnaires (SAQs) to our suppliers in 2024 to map out potential risks and identify areas of high-risk exposure.

Actions to assess and address risk

Jinko Solar is committed to open and transparent business practices and aims to ensure that our approach to modern slavery adheres to the requirements of the Modern Slavery Act 2018 (Cth) and associated legislation. We have implemented the below actions to ensure that our employees uphold these standards and ensure that our suppliers are aware of our commitments.

Due diligence and remediation action

Jinko Solar Group has implemented the following due diligence activities to monitor modern slavery risks in its own operations and supply chain:

- A SAQ was rolled out to our suppliers as part of our ongoing due diligence efforts to map out potential risks in the supply chain and identify areas of high-risk exposure to prioritize resources and further monitoring.
- Based on the results of the risk assessment, social compliance audits were conducted by both internal audit team as well as an independent third-party auditor.
- Through comprehensive social compliance audit, Jinko Solar timely identifies major risks and improvement opportunities for suppliers and requires suppliers to carry out corrective action plans. Jinko Solar provides professional guidance to suppliers to help efficiently drive improvement.

Training

To maintain awareness and ensure a high level understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our business, Jinko Solar informed both partner along the supply chain as well as internal stakeholder (e.g. our purchasing team) through professional training and experience sharing,

Jinko Solar established a targeted training mechanism for all its suppliers, which is carried out on annual, semi-annual and quarterly basis, both on site and remotely, with at least three (3) hours of training per year for each of its suppliers.

While helping its supplier and partners to understand the risk of modern slavery as aforementioned, Jinko Solar employees have also been made aware and are periodically made aware of the risk through relevant training and communication on an annual basis.

Assessing effectiveness

Jinko Solar Group assess the effectiveness of our assessments and programmes to identify and remediate modern slavery risks in a number of ways:

- Jinko Solar Group made available several and different internal and external grievance channels, some of which guarantee the anonymity of the reporter's identity, in order to timely collect the relevant information, e.g. physical mail box, hotline, internal platform.
- Both internal and third party annual audits were implemented to verify that corrective actions have been implemented on the ground.

We are committed to continually monitoring the effectiveness of the measures established so far. We will continue to track our actions and outcomes, partner with suppliers and other external partners, and undertake regular internal governance and external assurance processes. This will ensure that we can mitigate and address potential modern slavery risks, and adhere to the UN Guiding Principles and all applicable labour and social compliance requirements.

In order to further assess the effectiveness of the assessments and programmes to identify and remediate modern slavery risks, we drafted and published in May 2024 the ESG Report for the previous fiscal year (2023). Such ESG Report describes the policies and the actions undertaken by Jinko Solar to prevent modern slavery towards its organization. We asked to an independent third party to provide an independent assurance report on such ESG Report. The Jinko Solar ESG Report 2023 is published at the following link: <https://www.jinkosolar.com/uploads/20240530.pdf>. We aim to draft and publish an updated ESG Report also for fiscal year 2024.

Policies and procedures

We have a comprehensive set of policies and procedures to ensure we have strong frameworks to enable us to assess and address modern slavery risks.

For the year 2024, we have engaged with third-party independent auditors as well as internal audit team to conduct a complete audit (including corporate social responsibility audit) on our key facilities. The audit result is non findings of risks connected with modern slavery.

These policies and procedures complement our existing governance framework and ensure that our employees and suppliers clearly understand our expectations. In accordance also with our participation to the UN Global Compact we aim to continuously improve our policies.

Supplier engagement

As noted above, Jinko Solar has an established Partner Code of Conduct which suppliers are contractually obligated to comply with. The guiding principles include prohibitions against the practices of child labour and forced labour and requirements on working hours, wage payments, discrimination and corruption.

Jinko Solar promotes the concept of fair procurement and equal opportunities. We implement a supplier management system and evaluate suppliers on a number of criteria, including labour compliance. Jinko Solar Group regularly evaluates the performance of qualified suppliers and conducts on-site visits of suppliers when necessary.

Jinko Solar actively encourages its suppliers to build, develop and keep good ESG and CSR practices, also through establishing incentive mechanisms such as: supplier rewards, which includes being listed as preferred supplier, preferential invitation and other comparable rewards. The aim of such mechanisms is to build and develop more knowledge and awareness among the supply chain regarding the environmental and corporate social responsibility.

Reporting mechanisms

There are efficient reporting mechanisms in place to ensure the swift identification of and response to risks, including non-compliance with policies and procedures of Jinko Solar. Jinko Solar will continue to evaluate the extent to which existing reporting mechanisms can be encouraged as a way for employees and suppliers to raise grievances and escalate suspected or actual occurrences of modern slavery in our operations and supply chains.

Consultation
